Why do RV circuit breakers trip?

Circuit breakers prevent your RV's electrical system from becoming overloaded and therefore, causing fire and electric shock. In other words, they act as a failsafe: they interrupt the power in case of an electrical surge. This is the main reason why they trip.

What are the different types of circuit breakers?

The industry currently offers a wide range of single- and double-pole circuit breakers to choose from. The former are probably the most popular ones. They are built to monitor the current of a single wire. Obviously, double-pole ones monitor the current of two wires and interrupt it simultaneously.

What is a tandem breaker?

There are also so-called tandem breakers that provide two separate electrical circuits in the space of a single-port variant. Unlike double-pole models, they don't disconnect two poles simultaneously. All the above-mentioned products from renowned brands such as Husky Towing, Parallax, and others are showcased on our digital shelves.
